DISCOVERIES

An industrial-chic update of a 1950s classic, the Tri-Arm floor lamp by Design Within Reach features perforated white shades that can be positioned for ambient or focused light. With a chromed-steel frame and leather-wrapped handles, the lamp stands 57.5" h. and costs $1,295. dwr.com, 800-944-2233

Pierre Frey and ceramist Vincent Buffile of Atelier Buffile have collaborated on coordinated collections of graphic fabrics and dishware. From left are Bakou cotton in noir (other colors also available), a 22.5" x 19" platter, a 11.5"-h. vase, and Ondes linen; all to the trade. pierrefrey.com, 212-421-0534

Snappy stripes in vibrant hues lend a cheerful look to these cotton fabrics from Clarence House. From top are the Malibu and Beachcomber patterns, both of which are offered in a wide variety of color combinations; to the trade. clarencehouse.com, 212-752-2890

Part of Christopher Guy's new Mademoiselle line, the Monet console references Art Deco designs with its shapely silhouette and faux-ivory knobs. Shown in the firm's java-café finish with legs in black satin, it also comes in white or black lacquer. It measures 39" h. x 46" w. x 17" d. and costs $6,115. christopherguy.com, 800-476-9505

TRADE SECRET London Design Week

Architects, designers and assorted tastemakers will descend on Chelsea Harbour this week to seek inspiration from the 500 brands exhibiting at London Design Week (dcch.co.uk). Open to the public on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, there's plenty to inspire us "civilians" too, such as a lampshade surgery at Porta Romana and Pierre Frey's exhibition of Provençal ceramics by L'Atelier Buffile (above).

THE OBJECT
Cherry Hog cushion

Graduate Collection is a new venture that supports designers fresh from UK colleges, turning their concepts into reality, from manufacture and marketing to online retail. Amy Brocklehurst's fabulous Cherry Hog (Cockney rhyming slang for dog) cushions, £40 each, are part of this first, very impressive drive to encourage home-grown talent (graduatecollection.co.uk).

TRADE SECRET

Ochre (ochre.net)

What's new? Ochre has just opened a vast showroom to display its growing collection of lighting, furniture and accessories.

Much to love?

The chandeliers, especially, push the boundaries of what we might consider hanging from our ceilings. Look out for Seed Cloud, a tempered glass drop light with bronze stems, in wall and pendant versions, from £852. Other beautiful items include coconut-shell mirrors, buffalo-horn handles and this Zeffirelli armchair, a glamorously low-slung leather seat within a waxed oak or walnut frame, £3,446.40.

ON THE WISH LIST
Art Deco pendant light

30 Something! specialises in Art Deco lamps and lighting, but these exquisite pieces will enhance any interior, whatever its era. An eclectic mix of industrial pendants and desk lamps, handmade bespoke luminaries and original period lights offers a wonderful alternative to mass-produced repro lights. This ceiling pendant with glass coolie shade costs £135 (30-something.co.uk).

OUTSIDE EDGE

Toronto oil lamp lantern, £68, Heal's (heals.co.uk).
